Teachers' Pay Here
Equals Bigger Cities

Teachers' salaries in Sierra Madre compare favorably with those in much larger districts, according to a recent survey. A statistical study of the 13 largest California school districts show four of the 13 with a lower starting salary than Sierra Madre.

Pasadena, Sacramento, San Jose and Stockton all pay the statutory minimum of $4,200 as compared with the $4,250 paid to Sierra Madre's beginning teachers. One reason for this is that Sierra Madre has no one on provisional credentials without a B.A. degree.

Although Sierra Madre teachers do not receive on an average as high a salary as those in the 13 largest districts, their pay compares favorably with that of Pasadena and Stockton.

Pasadena's average salary is $5,930. Stockton's is $5,849, as compared with $5,731.30 paid in Sierra Madre.

The salary paid at the end of 14 years in the Sierra Madre district is $7,174 for those with Master's degrees. Pasadena, a much larger district, pays only $7,300 on the completion of 15 years of service.

A reason given for the high average salary in Sierra Madre is that the faculty is a stable group, since teachers tend to stay in a

Bethany
Home Is Approved

Bethany Home for Girls at 72 W. Alegria has been granted permission to continue operations in Sierra Madre.

The home, which formerly had been operating in violation of the City Zoning Ordinance, was granted a conditional use permit last week by the Planning Commission. The permit is good for five years.

The home may care for girls from 16 to 20 years of age, although not more than 20, including the staff, may be housed at any one time.

ALSO UNDER the permit, no visible signs may be erected nor may any additions or alterations be made without prior permission from the Planning Commission.

The Planning Commission received petitions from Consero of the Congregational Church and from the Woman's Club urging that the home be permitted to operate. Residents in the area of the home also spoke favorably. One letter, from Mrs. Fannie M. Thompson, expressed disapproval, while one citizen, Mrs. Estelle Drobek, spoke against permitting the home to stay in business.

On three previous occasions Bethany has been denied a business license by the City Council, which acted after hearing many protests and petitions in opposition. The action of the Planning Commission represents a direct turn-about in the public's attitude toward the home.

It is maintained for girls from broken homes, not for delinquents, and is supported by private endowments. The Probation Department of Los Angeles County sends girls to the home, and the court supports each girl placed there.

The City Council is expected to approve formally tonight (Tuesday) the action of the Planning Commission.

THE COUNCIL also is expected to approve new rates for the collection of rubbish and to approve the contract with City Refuse Co., successful bidder last week for the exclusive residential rubbish collection in Sierra Madre.

Another item on Tuesday's City Council agenda is a request from the county engineer for authorization to conduct a storm drain study in the city.

The study presumably would reveal whether additional storm drains are needed here and, on a county-wide basis, would determine whether another bond issue is necessary to further additional flood control work.

'I'm Going To Kill You,'
Caller Says

Anonymous and threatening phone calls, probably from juveniles, have plagued Sierra Madre police recently.

The latest call was received last Sunday at about 4 p.m. by John Kennedy, 229 W. Montecito. The caller, in an obviously disguised voice, told Kennedy:

"I'm going to kill you tonight."

At about 9 p.m. last Saturday, Mrs. Abbie M. Harkness, 470 W. Highland, answered the phone and a male voice asked for "Louie."

"Louie and me have a big job to pull," the nameless caller said.

When Mrs. Harkness told him he must have the wrong number, a female voice took over, uttering obscenities in the phone. Mrs. Harkness said the phone rang frequently until midnight.

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR

St. Rita's Guild, Sierra Madre, will hold a December luncheon meeting at 11:45 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 3, in the Parish Hall.

Library to Stay
Open 10 More
Hours a Week

The Sierra Madre Public Library will remain open from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Friday, beginning Dec. 2. Saturday hours will remain the same, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The new schedule will give Sierra Madreans an additional 10 hours of service a week.

The longer weekday hours were made possible by the appointment of Mrs. Paula Samazan to the staff. A graduate of UCLA, Mrs. Samazan has been in library work for 2 1/2 years.

Edgar Ewing
Wins Art
Show Here

Edgar Ewing's "The Little Black Sewing Machine" has won the third annual Purchase Prize award sponsored by the Friends of the Library. Mrs. Ted Velasquez, chairman, announced yesterday.

Mr. Ewing will be presented a check for $400 today by Ken Sheets, president of the Friends. Mr. Ewing was a recent winner in the Los Angeles County and vicinity art show.

The citation for first honorable mention in the current show resulted in a tie between K. Antoyan's "Day's End" and "Classical Still Life," by James Jarvaise.

Auditing of the ballots from the three judges, the public and the Exhibits Committee of the Friends of the Library was done by Al Paus, local accountant.

The show in the Library Gallery ends Friday, Nov. 29.

Three File
To Succeed
Herbert Legg

Latest candidate for the post of county supervisor from the First District is Stuart A. Coulter, northeastern Los Angeles County civic leader and farmer. The supervisory post is being vacated by Herbert Legg.

Another recently announced candidate is Russell L. Hardy, former mayor and now vice mayor of South Gate.

ALSO TOSSEING his hat into the ring early in October was Assemblyman Frank Bonelli of Huntington Park, whose candidacy was announced at a testimonial dinner in Whittier on Oct. 3.

Coulter, who resides in Charter Oak near La Verne and San Dimas, was drafted for the position by a committee of representative citizens who wished to give the northeastern section of the county more of a voice in vital county affairs.

Coulter, who has had a colorful career as seaman, businessman, farmer and civic and cultural leader, now devotes his time to citrus and avocado growing and civic activities.

Hardy, assistant vice president and chief appraiser of the First Savings and Loan Association, has been active in the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. A former career employee with the U.S. Post Office, Hardy has played an active part in South Gate civic affairs.

ASSEMBLYMAN Frank Bonelli of Huntington Park, a native of Colorado, came to Los Angeles nearly 50 years ago. He resides in Huntington Park, where he has had his own business for the past 20 years.

The primary election for the supervisory post will be next June. The general election will be in November, 1958.

Float Design OKed;
Work Is Underway

NO SOUTH SEA islands here, at least not in bamboo and straw on the outside of buildings, declared Fire Chief James Hensley, who ordered John Henderson, above, to tear off material he had just put up. "A fire hazard," said Chief Hensley. The building, on Baldwin Ave. across from the Shell Service Station, will be a gift shop named Twin Palms. It will be run by Mrs. Henderson in cooperation with Sue Moore, who operates a dress alteration shop next door.

Editorial

What About Released Time?

Sierra Madreans are about to witness a paradox. Or so it seems from here.

Russia has Sputnik and Mutnik circling the globe. Soviet universities are bulging with young scientists, while here in the United States we are wringing our hands over the drastic shortage of trained engineers and researchers, the inadequate educational facilities and, alas, in some instances the poor quality of educational programs themselves.

Yet we, in Sierra Madre, are now proposing to take away valuable public school time from our children so they can attend religious classes during the all too short school day.

And we also will be spending the public's, the taxpayer's money to do it.

This is not to argue that moral values, as taught through organized religions, are not important. Perhaps they are more important now, in an atomic age where one madman could trigger a war of annihilation, than ever before.

But there are 24 hours a day, 168 hours a week. Our youngsters go to school, at the most, only 30 hours a week.

There are dozens of hours left over each week for religious training, hours which would not detract from the school program.

Why don't the churches use some of this time?

Friendly persuasion, apparently, doesn't work. Or at least that's what the churches are saying when they insist that the state use its power to urge students to attend classes in religion.

The clergy is also admitting that Boy Scout programs, baseball, hop-scootch and other activities are more appealing to children after school hours than is religious instruction.

Therefore, the clergy, or at least that section of it which is pressing for released time, wants the state, through the public schools, to assume what is traditionally and constitutionally the responsibility of the church and the home.

The church, it seems to me, is admitting also that its program isn't attractive enough to induce youngsters—or their parents—to attend released time classes on a voluntary basis.

Under released time, children will be lined up and shepherded out of the school by teachers. Then presumably they will be met by instructors from the churches and taken to their classes.

Upon their return, public school teachers again will have to supervise the children. And while the youngsters are away, those who remain in class will have to be supervised by teachers.

They probably will be occupied with busy work, since it would be unfair to children not in school if those who remained were taught, for example, reading, writing and arithmetic.

Thus we have the teachers spending up to two hours a week of their time in non-productive pursuits—all at the expense of the taxpayers.

Perhaps people who favor released time wouldn't mind this. But public schools exist for everybody. What about those parents who disapprove? Is it fair to them to be compelled to pay taxes to support a program with which they disagree?

There are many more arguments, both pro and con, on the subject. There are those who maintain that released time programs are divisive because they spotlight those children who remain in class. They are pointed out as different from the majority.

Others believe the spiritual values obtained through released time outweigh any arguments in opposition.

It can only be hoped that parents of children now in Sierra Madre School (they are the ones who will actually settle this question) will think a little before they make their decision.—H.W.E.

'Young America
Dreams' Is Theme

"Young America Dreams" is the title of Sierra Madre's Tournament of Roses float, in keeping with the theme, "Day Dreaming in Flowers."

Depicting the dream of youth will be a boy stretched out by a pond, fishing pole in hand, oblivious to his surroundings while he dreams. Beside him is his tail-wagging dog.

Overhead is the boy's dream, a model of the White House, and the Great Seal of the United States.

THERE WILL be no living figures used this year, Col. Walter Thurber, general chairman, announced. All figures will be in flowers.

First rose sale was held Saturday, with ninth and 10th graders competing for a prize of tickets to the Queen's Coronation Ball. Proceeds will be used for float construction.

A second sale will be conducted Dec. 7, according to Mrs. Claude Brown, recruitment chairman. Girls wishing to participate may call Mrs. Brown at ELgin 5-9693.

Volunteers Saturday included Carol Colvin, Dodie Bush, Sue Maloney, Linda Green, Sandy Tavis, Barbara Sanders, Joan Rogers, Bonnie Long, Judy Quick, Beth Brown, Karen Morris, Carol Draeger, Cynthia Ellet and Betty Foster.

Colored slides of completed designs will be shown at the dinner.

Bob Green is recruitment chairman, and may be contacted at ELgin 5-3308.

Sputniks, Baseball
To Vie in Parade

The coming of major league baseball to the West Coast and the world of new horizons created by Sputnik will play definite roles in Tournament of Roses pageantry in Pasadena New Year's Day.

Edward J. Allen, chairman of the Tournament's parade entry committee, reported yesterday that Los Angeles and San Francisco, the two great rival industrial cities of California, both will enter floats carrying out the fulfillment of their "Daydreams in Flowers" with floral entries hailing the arrival of major league baseball in their respective cities.

"The Big League" is the theme of the Los Angeles float, while San Francisco has entitled its float, "The Magic Carpet," and has indicated that center fielder Willie Mays could be aboard.

THE INFLUENCE of Sputnik has motivated San Diego and San Antonio, Tex., to come up with themes based on sending satellites whirling through space. San Diego will call its float "New Worlds to Conquer." San Antonio has not specified its float theme.

Allen reported that his committee has received more requests to enter floats in the 69th annual Rose Parade than ever before.

"Sixty floats is the number we would like to have in the parade in order to have an event two hours long," he stated. "However, the designation of the University of Oregon and Ohio State University has brought more requests to participate."

"In addition to entries from both the Pacific Coast Conference and the Western or Big Ten Conference, an entry has already been accepted from the State of Oregon, with prospects that one or more Ohio cities may do likewise."

Lamoureux said a taxpayer can bring suit only in cases involving fraud, collusion or failure to perform a duty.

He further declared, "No facts showing a justifiable controversy are alleged in the complaint... the mere statement that a controversy exists is meaningless."

The assistant county counsel declared that the Education Code gives school officers "the power to act administratively..." and the court has no duty to act in their place.

The county counsel represents the Pasadena school districts and School Board. Also named in the suit were certain county and state officers to be represented by the attorney general's office.

Rev. Armin W. Hesse of Faith Lutheran Church, 835 Hastings Ranch Dr., has declined a call to become pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Garden Grove.

Rev. Hesse announced his decision Sunday to stay as pastor of the local church. His action followed the unanimous request of the church voting assembly, made Nov. 17, that he continue his ministry at Faith Lutheran.

Beautiful 21-year-old Babe brightened the 7:30 a.m. scene for motorists when she strolled down Mountain Trail last week.

Babe, who is Joe Gippi's horse, broke out of her corral at Mountain Trail and Churchhill Road. Household-ers and drivers gawked as Babe was led back to her home by a solemn policeman who arrived, complete with squad car, to round up the errant mare.

Maybe she was heading to Santa Anita for a fling.

DOWNTOWN merchants are beginning to decorate for the Christmas season. Seems kind of early, but as Larry Garland put it: "We're doing our decorating now before things get too busy."

Hope our stores are heavily shopped—this season, especially—to help compensate for the dreadful business slump suffered during the sewer upheaval.

THE WATER colors and pen and ink drawings now in the display cases at the Library are by John Brown, who lives with his wife, Jackie, on Brookside Lane. Particularly appealing is his pen and ink sketch "Keeper of the Forest."

MUZZLE MYSTERY Solved! The canon barrel in City Park was stuffed with cement in order to discourage Halloween mischief, according to Park Supt. Ernest Mohler.

Seems that last year, pranksters filled the canon with gunpowder and rocks and fired a few salvos across S. M. Blvd.

WHILE THE big red fire engine was parked at the body shop (for repairs?) an adult male sidled up to the driverless cab, looked about furtively and honked the mighty horn.

Apparently satisfied, he swiftly vanished.

SPEAKING of temptation, one tiny "mother" admonished her dolly: "Do not tempt your tashuns!"

ERNIE AND Dotty Smith will be much missed now that Ernie, son of Mrs. Julian LaLone, has re-enlisted in the Air Force. He's leaving soon for San Antonio, Texas, and Dotty will join him when he gets his permanent orders.

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

43 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Nov. 20, 1914—Constable Harley Newell of Pasadena was in Sierra Madre on business one day this week.

A few of the girls spent the weekend at Hoege's Camp as the guest of Miss Martha Hoege. Those who enjoyed the outing were Misses Dora Janson, Beatrice Ward, Una Davis and Isabelle Craig.

On Saturday the tennis tournament, which has been held every Saturday for three years at the Yerxa Court, was concluded. E. J. Yerxa and Mr. Woods were the winners.

20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Nov. 19, 1937—Prominent artists and critics of the southland are expected to attend the reception opening the 10-day exhibit of pastels by Courtney L. Miles, Sierra Madre landscape artist, to be held in the "Little Gallery" at the City Hall.

Jane Colbert, Sierra Madre girl, plays one of the lead parts in the one-act play "Elmer," a comedy presented by Woodrow Wilson Junior High students at the assembly.

10 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, Nov. 20, 1947—Due to a lack of quorum the City Council adjourned early until Nov. 25. Councilman Schiltz was kept to his home by illness and Councilman Froehlich and Councilman Nuetzel were out of town.

The Sewing Circle group held a meeting at the home of Mrs. William Brown, 46 N. Lima. Those attending were Mesdames Doughty, K. F. Croan, H. R. Mecke, Edward Roach, Carl Cullum, and C. E. Ware.

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

Hindsight is so much better than foresight that all of us now can speak expertly on what we should have done 11 years ago. But I can't recall anyone who warned us then.

We had brought the head man of Germany's V-2 program to this country—as a POW, I think—and after he had convinced us he wished to be an American citizen we had him carry on experiments at White Sands. I was present when he spoke before the Authors Club in Hollywood, and he seemed quite confident then that we were far ahead of anyone else and never could be overtaken.

Russia was then our ally, the United Nations has been organized in San Francisco and many of us foresaw a long period of peace. All of us who had sons in the armed forces wished them brought home, and when they came home most of them wished to return to school, study business administration and become young executives.

Only one of my four GI sons wished to study engineering, though John did study aviation. John is now an Air Force captain. My son Chuck was in a business administration class in USC which was so big it overflowed an assembly hall and many students had to sit out in the corridor and hear by loudspeaker.

THEN, AS NOW, I felt that that statesmen who could convince the world democracy and peace offered the greatest hope was more important than any military progress which would scare the world. If our potential enemies had become our friends under the stress of war our leaders should be wise and friendly enough to keep them on our side.

And it seemed to me we did mightily well. When Russia showed reluctance to give up conquered territory the Marshall Plan and NATO won us bloodless victories. When Greece and Turkey were threatened the Truman Doctrine saved them—and they are still on our side, as are all the nations of NATO. When East Germany, as Russia's catpaw, tried to cut off Berlin, the Berlin Air Lift won us another bloodless victory.

Those policies were so bipartisan that Eisenhower and Dulles played prominent roles in them, but we should not forget they were all Truman policies. I've always felt that as long as Ike and Dulles had wise guidance they were mighty good men for our side.

ONE TROUBLE with our grand country is that we have an innate conviction that money will cure anything. Now I fear there is danger we will get so hysterical about Sputnik that we will lose our mental balance and our bank balance. We are telling the whole world we are going to overtake Russia, no matter what it costs—and that cannot fail to spur Russia to greater effort. When peace and comparative security are what all the world wants, why can't we develop statements convincing enough to convince all the rest of the world that is all we want?

But can we do that by continually boasting that if Russia starts anything we'll blow it off the map? Can we do it by pointing out that we have Russia ringed with deadly weapons? No matter how we assert that peace is all we want, persons in high places keep popping off with what the rest of the world considers threats.

"Tread softly, but carry a big stick," said Theodore Roosevelt. That's darned good advice, but we should carry the big stick like a cane, not like a shillealeh.

REFLECTIONS ON THE SOVIET REVOLUTION—

While all the world is agog at Sputniks I and II, there are other aspects of the Soviet revolution that we seem to have forgotten all about.

Forty years ago, Lenin and Trotsky told the angry, disheartened people of Russia not to reach for the moon—but they did promise heaven on earth. Now, four decades later, what is the score?

The Soviet government still does not enjoy the free allegiance of its people, nor those of its satellite neighbors. The 200,000,000 citizens of the Russian state still live under the watching eyes of the secret police. The forced labor camps have not been emptied. The Russian people remain ill-fed, ill-clothed and ill-housed.

It is true that they have gone far in the race for outer-space. Totalitarian governments have many short-range advantages over the free, more relaxed Western democracies. Other dictatorships have also done well, in the short-run. With slave labor the Pharaohs built pyramids, Hitler built super-highways and Mussolini made the trains run on time. Where are they now?

Kruschev is a more picturesque dictator than Stalin and maybe there are great internal changes for the better coming inside Russia. But I cannot share the end-of-the-world attitude that the Sputniks went up into outer space. The Russian Communists still haven't conquered the heavens, and life in Moscow is still hell on earth.

HUMOR ON THE UPPER LEVELS—During the recent dispute over the acceptance of gifts from King Saud by the State Department's deputy chief of protocol, Victor Purse, the Washington wits had a field day. Everybody had something to say, but the crack we like best was supposed to have been made at Secretary Dulles' staff meeting. Said one punster: "You can't make a silk purse out of a Saud's ear."

POSTSCRIPT TO THE ELECTION—One election report that seemed to me badly underplayed the news around the country was the outcome of the vote at Little Rock, Ark. After all the fuss by Gov. Faubus the people of that city elected six moderates, pledged to back the Supreme Court integration decision. This was in a race for the seven-man city Board of Directors.

The White Citizens' Councils and the local junior Klansmen went in for considerable rabble-rousing—but they still lost and so did Faubus.

In Virginia, too, an integrationist, was elected to the Arlington County board after the Byrd machine pulled out all the stops in racist demagoguery. These events, had the press given them the attention they deserved, were our little Sputniks for all the world to see.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST—Sen. William Langer (R., N.D.) has come up with a suggestion that will get nowhere in Congress, but merits public discussion nonetheless. In view of all the feigned indignation about "conflicts of interest" cases in the Executive branch he thinks all congressmen, senators and other government employees earning more than $10,000 a year should be required to disclose their incomes, assets and dealings in securities or commodities.

And why not? A questionnaire will be sent out to many parents, and I hope there will be a serious and thoughtful response. In all phases of national life one realizes the importance of the Bible. For the good of all, Yours sincerely, KATHLEEN PULLING SHADFORTH

WANTS RELEASE TIME

Dear Sir:

Americans are living in a very troubled world and one that must be bewildering to our youth. We mothers realize more than ever the importance of education and that it should be strengthened by religious ideals. In fact, a very prominent place should be given to foster and encourage all that stresses character building. There is now under consideration by the parents and the Sierra Madre Board of Education a release time plan.

Last fall a group of about 14 boys and girls of different denominations met at a home of a neighbor for a Bible lesson. The children were 5 to 8 years of age and the time together was well spent. This year because of various worthwhile activities such as the Brownies, Scouts music lessons, etc., a time that would include most of the children could not be arranged after school.

Whereas many boys and girls attend Sunday School, there are others who don't, but a short time during school hours would be good for all. This period used would take approximately one hour of school time. Communities like Pasadena and Monrovia plus other California cities find release time very successful and beneficial.

A questionnaire will be sent out to many parents, and I hope there will be a serious and thoughtful response. In all phases of national life one realizes the importance of the Bible.

For the good of all,
Yours sincerely,

CRAB NEWBURG (USE DOUBLE BOILER)
Melt 2 tbs. butter then add 1 tbs. flour, ½ tsp. salt, and 1 cup rich milk. Blend until smooth. Add beaten yolk of 1 egg, and stir, taking care not to boil. Add ¼ cup grated cheese and 1 tsp. paprika. When thoroughly mixed add ¼ cup or one can flaked crab meat. This will keep in a double boiler with very low heat. Serves 4.
CORN AND OYSTER CASSEROLE
1 can Niblets Mexican corn
1 can small oysters
1 bell pepper
1 tbs. butter
½ cup milk
1 can yellow cream style corn
1 can pimiento strips
1 medium onion diced fine
1 egg
1 tsp. sugar (optional)
¼ cup cracker crumbs or crushed corn flakes
Salt and pepper to taste
Chop onion and bell pepper and saute in butter until slightly transparent. Add to all other combined ingredients and put in a casserole. Top can be decorated with strips of pimiento. Bake at 325°F for 30 minutes. Can be baked a shorter time but the full 30 minutes seems to improve the flavor. This is delicious as a main dish or as a supplement with ham loaf, baked ham or turkey. Serves four as a main dish and six to eight as supplement.

Pour canned peach halves and juice into an attractive bowl. Add port wine to nicely color juice and flavor peaches. Allow to stand in refrigerator from six to eight hours to flavor and chill.
PINEAPPLE SPONGE
Whip ½ pint whipping cream until stiff, adding ¾ cup powdered sugar as you whip. Add small can of crushed pineapple and 1 tbs. gelatin dissolved in heated juice from pineapple. Put in refrigerator and chill thoroughly. Serves six.

Lutheran Church to Hold First Communion Service

The sacrament of holy communion will be observed for the first time by the new United Lutheran Mission Church at the 10 a.m. worship next Sunday, Dec. 2. The congregation meets in the upper room of the Woman's Clubhouse, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. Sunday School is at 9 a.m.

The congregation has received a silver communion set from the Pacific Southwest synod. This set will be used in serving the first eucharist. The fruit of the vineyard also has been donated by an Arcadia family.

MISSION BELL

GOD IS GOOD. Nothing is more evident to the unprejudiced observer. All created things reflect the goodness of the Maker. "The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth His handiwork." But even the wonders of nature show only in part the goodness of God. He is Father as well as Creator, and the Fatherly gift to His created people is His only Son, our Saviour.

How should we show our gratitude for the good gifts of God? The offering of our dearest earthly possessions falls short. The loving Father wants above all else the LOVE of His people. What He who is good regards as good in His people is that they do justly, love mercy and walk humbly with their God. Read Micah 6:8.

EARLY DAYS at Plymouth: "at noon men staggered by reason of faintness for want of food, yet ere night, by the Good Providence and blessing of God, we have enjoyed such plenty as though the windows of Heaven had been opened to us." Elder Brewster, as he sat down often to a meal of clams, with a cup of cold water, looked up and returned thanks for the abundance of the sea and for the treasures hid in the sand.

TODAY'S THOUGHT—If the Pilgrims, with so few earthly blessings to brighten their privations, could be so thankful, shall we not by prayer make known to God, and the world, our gratitude for our countless blessings? When you think, you will thank.

Yours Faithfully,
REV. RAY E. HANSEN

Faith Lutheran Thanksgiving Service Thursday

The annual Thanksgiving Day service of Faith Lutheran Church will be on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the chapel at 835 Hastings Ranch Drive.

Rev. A. Hesse will preach on "This is THANKS-giving Day" based on Psalm 127:1-2. In his announcement of the service he stated:

"While we cannot command a person to be thankful, nor regiment the feeling of thanksgiving in the heart of anyone, we can certainly point out the factors which make people think. It is thinking about the undeserved goodness of God that produces thanksgiving."

In connection with the Thanksgiving service, the members of the congregation are sponsoring a food shower for the California Condonia College in Oakland. These gifts will assist in stabilizing the room and board costs at this California institution for the pre-seminary training of pastors and teachers. Items of canned and packaged food will be deposited in the chapel kitchen.

26 Couples at Faith Lutheran Meeting

Twenty-six couples of Faith Lutheran Church attended the monthly fellowship meeting of the Mr. and Mrs. Club last Friday evening.

The meeting, held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wessels, 533 W. Foot-hill, Arcadia, was introduced by a 7 o'clock buffet dinner, with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thomas of Arcadia and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Plischke of Sierra Madre serving as co-hosts.

The group will cancel the December meeting in favor of the all-Congregational Christmas fellowship night, to be held at Faith Lutheran Chapel, 835 Hastings Ranch Drive, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 18.

PHS Lament—Wait Until Next Year

By Judy Haymaker—ELgin 5-1887

Saturday night, Nov. 16, thousands of alumni and students from Pasadena High and Muir gathered on opposing sides of Horrell Field to cheer their fighting teams on to victory. This football game is the annual competitive event for all Bulldogs and Mustangs.

Muir, Pasadena's arch rival, was favored by 19 points in the deciding game, which is the fight between the opposing "A" teams. Because of Pasadena's spirit and hard-playing men who wouldn't give up and won our last two games, we had the will to win! But the Foothill League champions held tight to their reputation, as far as actual playing is concerned, and beat the Bulldogs 20-0.

Played the same evening before the "A's" was the battle between the "B's", where again we fared poorly. The score, 10-18.

But, the Junior Varsity game, held Friday afternoon at Muir, met with great success, as the Muir Mustangs were clobbered, 26-0!

All I can add is: next year!!

HELP IS being asked of Sierra Madre teen-age girls to sell roses to raise funds for our Rose Parade float. Mrs. Claude Brown has announced that Dec. 7 will be the date of the second sale. The girls will work in teams of two for one hour. There will be four separate locations. The girl selling the most roses will receive as a prize tickets to the Coronation Ball.

I need a hardy volunteer to team with me, so if you are that person—please let me know soon! Everyone interested should call Mrs. Brown, ELgin 5-9693, or Mrs. Gordon MacDonald, ELgin 5-7876, for arrangements.

DON'T FORGET to phone in any information you may have; I'll accept anything, print most of it!

K. W. Christianson Panel Member

Kenneth W. Christianson, 1230 Coronet, was invited to be a member of four-man panel, chosen from the roster of the Million Dollar Roundtable, at a recent meeting of the Los Angeles Life Underwriters Association held at the Statler Hotel.

More than 600 were in attendance to hear the panel's discussion of "Million Dollar Ideas From the Roundtable."

The panel members also included Robert S. Albritton, vice president of National Million Dollar Roundtable.

THANKSGIVING IS A FAMILY

AFFAIR AT CHURCH AND IN THE HOME

Let not the promises of fine feasting overshadow the true spirit of Thanksgiving Day . . . to give thanks to God for our blessings!

You are invited to attend the church of your choice on Thanksgiving Day. This is one of the most important things we have to be thankful for . . . freedom of worship. Our ancestors went through hardships for faith in their principles. This inheritance of courage, faith and power is ours to cherish and be thankful for every day of the year!

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

VILLA VIEWS

By Toni Maurin
SY. 7-9634

And so we come to Thanksgiving. What a wonderful time to stop in our daily cares and be grateful for all the many things that have been bestowed on us, rich and poor alike.

How can we say thank you for a bird in song, a bud opening into full flower in the spring, the ground covered with a mantle of snow, the trusting smile on a little baby's face or the clench of tiny little fingers, the love in someone's eyes, the joy of giving, the glow of the embers in a fire, having your loved ones around you safe and secure, the beauty of a sunrise, the sweet fresh smell of the air after a rain, a little puppy wagging its tail, and the feel of the rich brown earth.

All these things and so many more are free for all to share if we but look around.

THERE ARE several last-minute parties being given to honor Miss Patty Halperin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Halperin, 1490 Old House Road. Her wedding is to be this Saturday.

Last Saturday there was a bridal luncheon given at the El Dorado by Mrs. Gene Hatfield and Miss Jane Lockwood to entertain the bridal party. Among the guests were Mrs. John Wells, Mrs. Raymond Rodolf, Mrs. Howard Sanger, Miss Jean Bickie, Mrs. Edward B. Dewey Jr., from Burlingame, Miss Carol Lynne Asher, the junior maid of honor, and Susan Spaulding, her flower girl. Little David Dewey is acting as ring bearer.

On the eve of her wedding Mrs. Sanger and Mrs. Rodolf are giving a spinster party and the Halperins are entertaining 40 people at a bridal supper.

DR. AND MRS. Linus Pauling, 3500 Fairpoint, have been traveling in the North and plan to be at their ranch just north of San Simoeon in time for Thanksgiving. They will be joined there by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Ray, who are now living on Barhite.

MR. AND MRS. George Amthor, 3306 Barhite, have had for the past week Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ponsbarr and their daughter, Jolynn, from Alendale, Mich., as houseguests. They had a wonderful time showing them the sights of Southern California. Mrs. Edward Amthor has also arrived for her annual visit with them.

MR. AND MRS. Mervin A. Grizzle, 2258 Villa Heights Road, are taking their daughters Carol and Nancy to Berkeley where they will spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grizzle, and their two other children, Ann and John. John is finishing his six months training in the Army Reserve at Fort Ord and will return here after Dec. 7. Ann is a student at Berkeley.

MR. AND MRS. Ralph E. Paquette, 1309 Wynn Road, are entertaining their family for Thanksgiving. They will have as guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garratson and their three sons, Bob, Roger and David, Mrs. Margaret McEachin, Edward Kauth, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wingate from Pashastin, Wash.

THE F. WAYNE Furstenberger family will all gather for dessert Thanksgiving in the late afternoon at their home at 3126 Meyer Loa Lane. Among the family will be Mr. and Mrs. Frank Furstenberger, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Logsdon and their son, Mike, Mr. and Mrs. John Edmonds and their two children, Johnny and Carol Jean, Mrs. Josephine Bell and daughter, Ann.

MR. AND MRS. Lee T. Carmichael, 1886 Kinneloa Canyon Road, are taking their two older children, Dick and Alan, on a skiing jaunt over the four-day weekend. They are going up to Mammoth and will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goebble of Altadena.

ROBERT CRESS, right, is the newly elected chairman of the Sierra Hastings District of Camp Fire Girls. Mrs. Virgil Nordyke is secretary, and Art Myers, vice chairman. They were elected, with other members of the district committee, at the annual meeting of the organization Nov. 13.

Residents See Two Plays Within Week

Hastings Ranch residents were avid theater-goers last week as they attended two benefit performances in two different theaters. The experience left them requesting more of the same.

Field PTA took over sale of tickets for "Janus" Tuesday night at Pasadena Playhouse, in lieu of staging their fall carnival, and parents expressed pleasure in dressing up for the evening instead of working in carnival booths.

"Janus," starring K. T. Stevens and Hugu Marlowe, a real-life husband-wife acting team, drew much laughter from its audience of parents, particularly in its reference to children and education. The sophisticated comedy was happily received.

Many of the same audience attended "Papa Is All" Friday night, another comedy, this presented at the Penthouse Theater in Altadena. Tickets for this performance were handled by Circle 2 of the Guild of Trinity Presbyterian Church.

The story of a Mennonite family and the father who ruled his household with a buggy whip proved amusing entertainment for family parties.

Trinity Guild this year is not holding a bazaar to raise its quota of funds for church activities, but rather each of the Guild circles is arranging its own money-raising plan.

The "holiday season" will begin next week for fourth through eighth graders who are members of the Cotillions of the Foothill Area. The groups will meet for their December dancing parties Tuesday and Wednesday at the Sierra Madre Woman's Club.

"White Christmas" will be the theme Tuesday when sixth grade parties are planned. The Sixth Grade Cotillion will meet from 4:45 to 5:45 p.m. and the Sixth Grade Assembly from 7 to 8 p.m.

Fourth and fifth graders' Matinee, which meets in two sections, is scheduled for Wednesday, the first group from 4:45 to 5:45 p.m., with Mrs. John Morris and Mrs. W. Richard Koontz serving as patronesses, and the second from 5:45 to 6:45 p.m.

Seventh and Eighth Grade Junior Cotillions also will use a "White Christmas" theme. Beginners are invited from 6:45 to 8 p.m., and "advanced" members from 8:15 to 9:30 p.m., on Wednesday.

It's possible to be born with ability, but a man has to hustle for experience.

End of Football Means Return of Old Westerns

By Charles Ayres

I hate to see the football season come to a close mainly because (1) I like football, (2) I'll lose my excuse for ignoring much needed maintenance around the house, (3) I like football, (4) TV will return to old westerns and lend-lease pictures, and (5) I like football.

With the "T." Split "T." Go-Go-Go and miscellaneous other formations being used I'll admit to confusion. It seems to me that the only guys that know where the ball is are the defensive team. There are a lot of TV cameramen and radio announcers that will buy that too, I'll bet.

Not so with the good old single wing, though. There is a system that subscribes to such things as blocking and running and although nobody gets fooled often, there isn't much they seem to be able to do about it.

Whether you like football or not, you can't ignore it. It has more effect on our lives than any other sport. Not only does it affect us physically, emotionally, mentally, politically, financially, and morally, but also spiritually. For example a game between Notre Dame and Southern Methodist does more for religion than a Billy Graham mass meeting at Madison Square Garden.

Most fans aren't fickle like they are in Southern California. Generally if a team is having a bad season, the fans use the stadium on game days for mass meetings to set the arrangements for tarring and feathering the coach.

A 10-game schedule seems awfully short until you realize that there are worse things than smog (like snow and ice for example), that have a way of lousing up the playing fields in less fortunate parts of the country. Then, too, it's claimed that the players get pretty battered and beaten after a while and have to go to the pits for repairs.

I'll subscribe to that. In my condition I've been known to bruise sitting in the stands. Anybody for Vic Tanny's?

Thanksgiving

A FAMILY
TRADITIONFIRE FLAMES

By Chief James Klesley

The firemen are about to call at doors with the annual tickets that provide funds to carry on the traditional affairs. The men are all anxious to know just how we stand. It has reached the stage at Christmas time when most of the donations of people are requested.

In fact, one gets to feel like saying "No" once in a while (and we are all in the same boat). And now, since the children are pretty well provided with sweets and toys, we are wondering if there might be some reluctance to contribute?

If so, we will appreciate suggestions. You can be certain that the men who make up the Fire Department will abide by whatever may be the decision of the public. The question is whether the custom of promoting the Christmas Party and Easter Egg Hunt at the Park each year is important or unnecessary.

In the past, the activities of the firemen were looked forward to, and everyone appreciated that the firemen would at least remind people of the Yuletide. Things have changed and we must admit it, so we urgently ask that we receive some indications, in good faith, whether we should continue or not. Thank you.

THE SIERRA Madre Volunteer Fire Department is actually more interested in keeping down fires than in any other promotion. With the present members at hand, residents can feel assured that we are ever conscious of this fact.

In order to retain such a group of conscientious men, there must be something of interest. The annual Christmas affair has always been an important source of providing this required interest.

Surely residents have noticed how well we went through the very dry season without a serious fire. The firemen noticed it and they appreciate it. We are just as happy about a low fire loss year as any group could be. We are proud of our past record and will try with every effort to keep it.

Surely the Fire Department must have had something to do with our good record of low fire loss.

Anyway, your firemen are ever alert, and continue to prepare for the fire that can occur. It could be a major one, so please remain fire conscious and remove all fire hazardous materials from your premises. After all, if we never have another Christmas Party, the fire danger still remains.

'Ideas of Western Man' Is Caltech Art Exhibition

The display, entitled "Great Ideas of Western Man," will offer a collection of color prints and advertisements designed by some top American artists for the Container Corp. of America. The exhibit has been arranged by Mrs. Jennifer Goss, exhibits director of the Caltech Humanities Division.

Injury to Eye Is Most Common Cause of Cataracts

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill Branch of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

To many persons whose vision is failing, the word "cataract" immediately is associated with the terrifying thought that blindness is inevitable. Actually, many of the hundreds of other afflictions that can affect the eye pose a more serious threat to vision than does cataract.

Cataract is not, as many people believe, a growth. It is not a film over the surface of the eye, nor does it occur in back of the eye. It is simply a cloudiness or a reduction of transparency of the lens of the eye.

The amount of loss of vision in the eye with cataract will depend on the cataract's stage of development and its location in the lens. Because it is the lens alone that is affected, special glasses usually can do little to improve the vision in that eye. It would be the same thing as having a very badly smudged lens in a camera. No matter what kind of gadgets were used, the result would be a blurred picture.

AMONG THE causes of cataract perhaps the first in importance is injury, particularly among children. Sharp objects which strike the eyeball can cause this condition.

Illness is another contributing factor, with eye disease leading the list. If not properly screened, persons who work with X-ray, radium and radioactive materials also may develop cataract.

Age is another cause. If we live long enough, the cataract is inevitable because of the continual gradual hardening and clouding process affecting the lens.

Generally, cataracts are of two main types. One is that in which the outer portion of the lens is affected. This type may go on for 10, 20 or more years without any serious visual impairment to the individual. It is the type that most people get as they grow older. The other affects the central portion of the lens. It is the type which more frequently requires surgical attention.

Those relatively few persons who do require surgical removal of cataract should draw comfort from the fact that the operation, performed by a skilled eye physician, is highly successful and painless. Removal of cataract has been done by doctors for more than 100 years.

WHEN THE cataract is removed it means, of course, that the lens of that eye is removed. While this permits light to enter the eye and register on the retina, there is no natural means by which the eye can focus that light into an image.

Consequently, special eyeglasses with extra-thick lenses are worn to take the place of the natural eye lens and good vision is restored. Sometimes a contact lens that is worn directly on the eyeball is used instead of the spectacles.

Unfortunately, at the present time, there is no medical

Troop 8 Grows to 30 Girls

From a starting membership of 15 girls in September, Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 8 has grown to 30 girls, and includes fifth graders from all three elementary schools in Sierra Madre.

The new members are now working on the requirements for intermediate scout rank, to give them the same background as the older members. At the same time, all the members are beginning to satisfy the 11 field requirements for second class rank, which they hope to achieve as a whole troop by the June Court of Awards.

Officers of the troop until Jan. 1 are:

Color-bearer, Jean Cohen; scribe, Amy Uymatsu; treasurer, Jan Horswell (replacing Sherri Brainerd, who moved out of town); Patrol leaders, Kristin Brown, Patrol 1; Jini Hersey, Patrol 2; and Sylvia Munson, Patrol 3.

Mrs. Claude Brown is troop leader, with Mrs. Theodore Broomfield, Mrs. Philip Mitchell and Mrs. LeRoy Quackenbush as the assistant leaders. Other members of the adult troop committee are Mrs. Clark Casey, Mrs. Francis Uymatsu, Mrs. Gale Hersey, Mrs. Earl Morris, Mrs. Lee Horswell and Mrs. Jerry Cohen.

Members of Troop 8 are: Dana Ames, Janice Anderson, Carol Asher, Joan Broomfield, Kristin Brown, Karen Casey, Jean Cohen, Sandy Custer, Cheryl Fletcher, Vicki Guthrie, Jini Hersey, Jan Horswell, Priscilla Howbert, Mary Kay, Gale Laskowski, Linda Mitchell, Lynn Morris, Sylvia Munson, Eleanor Parks, Karen Quackenbush, Barbara Torres, Amy Uymatsu, Diane Voltmer, Julianne Vecchione, Carolyn Williams, Jan Conzelman, Phyllis Thomas and Penny Ward.

There is no such thing as a convincing argument, but most everyone feels they have one.

Field Has Busy Schedule Before Holiday Vacation

Less than three weeks remain before children are released from school for their Christmas vacation. And a busy time those weeks will be for Eugene Field children and parents also.

The December PTA executive board meeting is set for 10 a.m., Dec. 11 at the home of Mrs. Douglas Morissette, 3795 Newhaven. Mrs. Morissette is a member of the hospitality committee of the PTA. Special guests for the meeting and salad luncheon to follow are fifth grade room mothers:

Mrs. David Phillips, Mrs. John Morris, Mrs. James Nichols, Mrs. Joe Philipson, Mrs. Alex Orden, Mrs. Emil Barlow, Mrs. Bruce Graham and Mrs. Ben Barth.

The annual luncheon for teachers and the staff given by members of the board will be held Dec. 12, with Mrs. A. C. Ong as chairman, and members of the board assisting in preparing and serving the luncheon.

Sixth grade Camp Fire Girls, members of the TAMI-KA-DA group, are preparing favors, place cards and other decorations for the affair.

Mothers also are busy with costumes and sets for the annual Christmas pageant to be presented by the sixth grades and scheduled Dec. 18 in lieu of a regular PTA meeting for December.

Vandals wrecked stored costumes when Field was broken into just prior to the opening of school in September, so they must be replaced in time for the Christmas play. Parents have been asked for donations of materials, ribbons, glitter, beads, tassels, old draperies, velvets and other items that might be turned into costumes.

Vacation begins with the close of school Dec. 19, with the annual Christmas parties arranged in each room by the room mothers just before the final bell.

Friendship Club To Hold Party On December 2

The Sierra Madre Community Friendship Club will hold its annual Christmas party at 2 p.m. Monday, Dec. 2, in the City Park House.

A musical program is planned. Those attending are asked to bring a 25-cent wrapped package for the gift exchange.

Mrs. Ethel Murrell, assisted by Mrs. Jessie Martin, Miss Mildred Webber and Miss Grace Webber, will serve tea. Party arrangements are under the direction of Mrs. Ella Nourse and Ruth Matter. The public is invited.

Connie Pursley Marks Birthday

Constance Ann Pursley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Pursley, 1125 Daveric, celebrated her fourth birthday at a recent luncheon.

Those young guests in attendance were Lucinda Halstead, Terry Taylor, Joan Wells, Debbie Winsor and Nancy Miller.

Men often go wrong because they aren't satisfied where they are.
